

ADULTS ON THE SPECTRUM

Community Connections GROUP

Real places. Real experiences. Real connection.

Join Summer Yanosko, BCBA for a 10-week community-based group designed for adults on the autism spectrum who want opportunities to connect with others, build confidence, and practice everyday skills in real-world settings.

Rather than meeting in a therapy room, we're taking the group into the community.

Each week, we'll meet at a different restaurant or community location in Franklin.

Participants purchase their own food and beverages, giving us even more opportunities to practice real-world decision-making, ordering, communication, self-advocacy, flexibility, and independence.

The goal isn't to teach people to mask or perform socially.

It's to provide a supportive space to practice, connect, problem-solve, and build skills that matter in everyday life—while honoring each person's communication style, sensory needs, and individuality.
